About Virtual Leadership Training

E4 Carolinas guides participants through seven sessions of engaging and informative industry content by providing virtual tours and presentations from top industry speakers and leaders. The leadership development portion aids participants in mastering personal energy industry leadership skills. Upon completion of the 6 month course, graduates become members of the Carolina Leadership Energy Alumni Network, and remain connected with leadership alumni throughout their careers.

The Virtual Training Participant Will:

Build valuable knowledge and insight of power and natural gas research, innovation, technology, production, transmission, distribution and regulation.

Complete a leadership pattern assessment early in the year and with this learn about their leadership archetype, how to manage it and how to produce valuable results from their business interactions, developing robust leadership and communication skill.

Establish an extensive network of Energy Professionals through which they may create value for themselves and their organization.

Requirements – Applicants must have an energy industry passion with a strong desire to grow their knowledge, master their personal leadership skill and develop their Carolina energy network. They will be required to attend all 7 sessions. Class size may be limited to 30 participants.
